INDIANAPOLIS Aug 6—Ex Gov Hendricks opened the Democratic campaign to night He urged that on the result of the election for senator in Indiana this winter might hinge the political character of the U S senate He regarded both Voorhees and Harrison, the opposing candidate, as able gentlemen. He proceeded to argue that Voorhees financial and political sympathies were such as the people approved and that Voorhees would properly and wisely represent the state He held views which are strongly presented in the state platform Harrison held contrary views The statement made by the Republicans, that Democratic success meant payment for slaves and southern claims was false, for such payment would be a violation of the fourteenth amendment All just claims for damage of property of unionists in the south have been paid already and would be paid hereafter But the Democratic party has been an economical party He declared that the president had no southern policy his administration was incapable of any What the president had done in the southern states the speaker approved as it was good Democratic doctrine

More of that Humbug Labor Committee

NEW YORK, Aug 6—This being the last day of the congressional labor investigation the committee attendance was unusually large.

Geo E McNeil president of the International Workingmen's Union residing in West Somerville Mass, was the first witness The whole difficulty, in his opinion is the wage system of labor or in other words, that the wage system and steam engine are contemporaneous, and that productive power has exceeded the power of consumption He favored the eight hour law throughout the country

Peck, of Danbury, Conn, followed He thought instead of lending hundreds of millions of dollars to banks the government should lend some few hundred millions free of interest, to workingmen He read a long petition to congress asking the government to lend any man $5 000 to build a house with,—the amount to be paid back by installments

M Sellick was for abolishing the U S senate, restricting the power of congress and the president issuing $58 per capita curtailing labor to six hours, and allowing no one outside the labor bureau to employ laborers

Mr Kemp believed the cause of the depression was the war over issue of currency extravagance caused by a short period of inflation and a high protective tariff all of which ought to be remedied

Hewitt read the following question which the committee submits to the public The congressional committee earnestly requests the co-operation of the public in all sections of the country in obtaining information to aid in practical solution of the important question submitted to it It especially invites suggestions from representative men in all departments of business It proposes the following questions to employers of labor throughout the country

First—What were the selling prices of your products in 1860 and in each subsequent year down to 1878 inclusive?

Second—What were the wages paid by you in each of these years for labor employed?

Third—Where the persons furnishing information are willing to do so, the committee invites them to state the percentage of profit made by them in each of these years upon the capital employed in their business

Fourth—What were the wholesale and retail prices of leading articles of family consumption during each of these years in your vicinity?

Fifth—What is the difference if any between the rents of tenements occupied by operatives in the years 1860 and 1878 in your vicinity?

Sixth—What was the comparative amount of products of your business in quality and value in the years 1860 and 1878?

Seventh—State the comparative steadiness of employment of operatives between the years 1860 and 1878 inclusive?

The committee invites suggestions from employers and employes as to the extent and causes of the present depression of business and as to any special federal legislation which in their opinion would tend to relieve the same The committee will hold its next session in the New York postoffice August 20th

PACIFIC COAST NEWS.

CALIFORNIA.

Railroad Freights

SAN FRANCISCO Aug 5 A Call reporter this evening interviewed Mr Vining general freight agent of the Union Pacific railroad who is now in the city on business connected with recent action of the overland railroad companies regarding rates of freight across the continent Mr Vining stated he had come here to have a general conference and exchange of views with business men on the subject with a view of arriving at some conclusion that will be satisfactory to all parties concerned The reporter called his attention to the fact that Gov Stanford had received a reply to his telegram to Sydney Dillon protesting against increase of rates and proposing instead a reduction the reply being to the effect that no action would be taken until an exchange of views could be had with railroad authorities at Omaha

In explanation of proposed increase in rates, Mr Vining stated that three years ago railroads lumped their rates making an average on different classes of dry goods, that merchants had taken advantage of that arrangement to send all cheap bulky goods by water availing themselves of low railroad tariff to send valuable goods over and and that the present increase was with a view of breaking up that system He further stated that he should further prosecute his efforts to effect arrangements with merchants in this city and a similar course would be pursued by eastern railroad authorities in New York and that it was hoped some satisfactory conclusion might be reached He did not, however hold out the idea that the newly adopted schedule of rates would be abrogated though if business men would guarantee sufficient business to warrant, modifications would be made,—the object of the railroad companies being to make such arrangements as will protect them from any loss while desiring to take no undue advantage of the mercantile community Mr Vining will probably remain here for another week

The More Murder Trials

SAN BUENAVENTURA Aug 6—In the trial of Lord to day the prosecution closed at noon and the defense occupied the afternoon in cross examination Jones state's evidence went back on his several previous sworn statements by testifying that he did not go to the ground to kill anybody He did not know what he went for Hitherto with utmost nonchalance Jones has admitted that he went to assist in perpetration of murder and arson A man named Cyrus Kenny who is well known and much respected, was called by defense and created a sensation by his testimony He swore that on the night of the murder he was awakened by dogs barking at stock, and he got up and drove them from his grain The second time he got up he saw Lord in his night clothes talking to Hunt who was on horseback This exactly confirms the statement of the two prisoners When asked why he had not divulged this knowledge long before, witness said he was afraid of prosecutors, that when Hunt told what he knew he was at once charged with crime and arrested, to destroy his evidence and witness feared the same fate He said Hunt was arrested for this reason only Mr Kenney's testimony carries very great weight with those who know him and rigid cross-examination failed to weaken it The defense will close in time to-morrow for rebuttal testimony to be heard if the other side are ready to offer any.

Horrible Canadian Tragedy.

[Jarvis (Ont.) Dispatch July 23]

A horrible double tragedy occurred early this morning near the village of Rockford five miles west of this place, in the county of Norfolk George Smith, a farmer, and James Smith his eldest son, a young man about twenty one years of age, went from the house between two and three o clock this morning to attend to their farm duties They had been absent but a short time when the young man returned to the house and called on the rest of the family to get up He then went to a bedroom occupied by his two sisters both young women and attacked one with a wooden pump handle which he brought in with him, cutting frightful gashes on her head and breaking her arm He then struck the other sister several blows and she fell or threw herself on the floor exclaiming that he had killed her Thinking he had done so, he turned his attention to a young brother who fled to the kitchen, and getting possession of a pistol, held the murderer at bay, telling him he would shoot him. He came near him James then left the house and it was supposed he had fled, but he has since been found in the barn hanging by the neck dead The old man was found behind the barn dead with his skull smashed in The inference is that he had been killed by his son before the attack was made on the rest of the family His body had been dragged some distance toward a strawstack, the murderer probably contemplating hiding the body or burning it in the strawstack but abandoned that intention The girl first attacked is fatally injured her skull being broken and her chest driven in There had been a quarrel about money which James had stolen from the old man on different occasions He had stolen money to go to an Odd Fellows excursion to day and his father had discovered this The pump handle had been sawn off by the murderer who displayed great determination to accomplish his diabolical purpose

An inquest was held this afternoon on the bodies of George and James Smith and a verdict was returned in accordance with the foregoing facts and that James Smith committed suicide by hanging Further details of the horrible mutilation of the old man are sickening and make the deplorable occurrence the worst in character that ever took place in this section of the country James Smith was to have been married to day

Hendricks and Voorhees.

The following timely paragraph is from the Philadelphia Record

Voorhees is making a tour of the state of Indiana for the purpose of making sure his re-election to the senate This versatile and persuasive inflationist is one of the sweet boons which Mr Hendricks has conferred upon the country Mr Hendricks does not believe in Voorhees but he was afraid to disturb his own equilibrium by opposing him.

GEN GRANT'S TABLE TALK

VARIOUS POINTS OF CONVERSATION ABOUT MEN AND THINGS REPORTED FROM EUROPE—THE SILENT MAN A PIQUANT AND FACILE TALKER—ODDS AND ENDS OF CONVERSATIONS

[Hamburg Letter to N Y Herald]

I asked the general why he had not invested Richmond as he had invested Vicksburg and starved out Lee Such a movement said the general would have involved moving my army from the Rapidan to Lynchburg I considered the plan with great care before I made the Wilderness move I thought of massing the army of the Potomac in one vast column giving the men twelve days rations and throwing myself between Lee and his communications If I had made this movement successfully—if I had been as fortunate as I was when I threw my army between Pemberton and Joe Johnston the war would have been over a year sooner I am not sure that it was not the best thing to have done it certainly was the plan I should have preferred If I had failed however it would have been very serious for the country and I did not dare the risk What deterred me, however was the fact that I was new to the army did not have it in hand and did not know what I could do with the generals or men If it had been six months later when I had the army in hand and knew what a splendid army it was and what officers and men were capable of doing and I could have had Sherman and Sheridan to assist in the movement I would not have hesitated for a moment."

THE BATTLE OF SHILOH

The correspondence and papers at the time all said that Shiloh was a surprise—that our men were killed over their coffee and so on There was no surprise about it, except, said the general with a smile, "perhaps to the newspaper correspondents We had been skirmishing for two days before we were attacked At night before Buell's army came up I was so well satisfied with the result and so certain that I would beat Beauregard even without Buell's aid, that I went in person to each division commander and ordered an advance along the line at 4 in the morning Shiloh was one of the most important battles in the war It was there that our western soldiers met the enemy in a pitched battle From that day they never feared to fight the enemy and never went into action without feeling sure they would win Shiloh broke the prestige of the southern confederacy so far as our western army was concerned Sherman was the hero of Shiloh He really commanded two divisions—his own and McClernand's—and proved himself to be a consummate soldier Nothing could be finer than his work at Shiloh and yet Shiloh was belittled by our northern people so that many people look at it as a defeat The same may be said of Fort Donelson People think that Donelson was captured by pouring men into it ten to one or some such odds The truth is our army a new army invested a fortified place and compelled a surrender of a force larger than our own

THE ATTACK ON FORT DONELSON

Of course there was a risk in attacking Donelson as I did but,' said the General, smiling, I knew the men who commanded it I knew some of them in Mexico Knowledge of that kind goes far toward determining a movement like this If Longstreet or Jackson, or even if Buckner had been in command, I would have made a different campaign In the beginning we all did things more rashly than later just as Jackson did in his earlier campaigns The Mexican war made the officers of the old regular armies more or less acquainted, and when we knew the name of the general opposing we knew enough about him to make our plans accordingly What determined my attack on Donelson,' said the General, was as much the knowledge I had gained of its commanders in Mexico as anything else But as the war progressed and each side kept improving its army these experiments were not possible Then it became hard earnest war and neither side could depend upon any chance with the other Neither side dared to make a mistake. It was steady hard pounding, and the result could only be ruin to the defeated party That was a peculiarity in our war that we were not fighting for peace, but to destroy our adversary That made it so hard for both sides and especially for the south

NO COUNCILS OF WAR.

Some remark was made about councils of war and how far their deliberations affected an army's movements I never held a council of war in my life I never heard of Sherman or Sheridan doing so Of course I heard all that every one had to say, and in headquarters there is an interesting and constant stream of talk But I always made up my mind to act and the first that even my staff knew of any movement was when I wrote it out in rough and gave it to be copied off

A ROMANTIC BATTLE

There was another question as to the poetic effect of such a battle as that of Lookout Mountain, the battle above the clouds The battle of Lookout Mountain is one of the romances of the war. There was no such battle and no action even worthy to be called a battle on Lookout Mountain It is all poetry

GRANT ON "THE THIRD TERM."

The general continued in this vein and our conversation took a personal turn "I was never more delighted at anything," said the general, "than the close of the war I never liked service in the army—not as a young officer I did not want to go to West Point. My appointment was an accident and my father had to use his authority to make me go I never went into a battle willingly or with enthusiasm I was always glad when a battle was over I never want to command another army I take no interest in armies When the duke of Cambridge asked me to review his troops at Aldershott I told his royal highness that the one thing I never wanted to see again was a military parade When I resigned from the army and went to a farm I was happy When the rebellion came I returned to the service because it was my duty I had no thought of rank all I did was to try and make myself useful My first commission as brigadier came in the unanimous indorsement of the delegation from Illinois I do not think I knew any of the members but Washburne, and I did not know him very well It was only after Donelson that I began to see how important was the work that Providence devolved upon me And yet after Donelson I was in disgrace and under arrest and practically without a command because of some misunderstanding on the part of Halleck I do not know what would have come of that had not the country interfered You see Donelson was our first clear victory and you will remember the enthusiasm that came with it The country saved me from Halleck's displeasure When other commands came I always regretted them When the bill creating the grade of lieutenant general was proposed with my name as the lieutenant general I wrote Mr Washburne opposing it I did not want it I found that the bill was right and I was wrong when I came to command the army of the Potomac that a head was needed to the army I did not want the presidency and have never quite forgiven myself for resigning the command of the army to accept it but it could not be helped I owed my honors and opportunities to the Republican party and if my name could aid it I was bound to accept The second nomination was almost due to myself I may use the phrase because of the bitterness of political and personal opponents My re-election was a great gratification because it showed me how the country felt Then came all the discussions about the third term I gave my views on that in my letters to Senator White of Pennsylvania It is not known however how strongly I was pressed to enter the canvass as a candidate I was waited upon formally by a distinguished man, representing the influences that would have controlled the Republicans in the south and asked to allow my name to be used This request was supported by men in the northern states whose position and character are unquestioned I said then that under no circumstances would I become a candidate Even if a nomination and an election were assured I would not run The nomination if I ran would be after a struggle and before it had been unanimous The election if I should win would be after a struggle and the result would be far different from what it was before If I succeeded and tried to do my best my very best I should still have a crippled administration This was the public view Personally I was weary of office I never wanted to get out of a place as much as I did to get out of the presidency For sixteen years, from the opening of the war it had been a constant strain upon me So when the third term was seriously presented to me I peremptorily declined it

Disgusted with his Fatherland.

[From the Cincinnati Volksblatt]

The state of affairs in Germany must be sad, indeed, at least so far as politics are concerned An old German American, who has been abroad about six months, but is at present on his way back to this country, writes from Hanover

I have been very much disappointed in Germany There is no public opinion here and no expression of public opinion Every one has his eyes directed toward the state—viz, Bismarck—and expects from him all the blessings that are to come Nothing is heard here but the following The state must take the matter in hand the state will take care of it the state must stamp out the social democracy with iron and steel the state has too long permitted the socialists to grow over its head, the state must now face the monster else all will be lost This is the language one hears everywhere Whenever in a saloon or a hotel some royal individual drinks to the health of the Kaiser and some one present does not take off his hat or join in the hurrah, he is at once collared as a socialist kicked into the street by the guests and arrested by the police A perfect terrorism prevails here, and nobody dares even to find fault with the immense number of arrests made almost daily for insults to his majesty Everything is dumb and silent.

It would be well for the Volksblatt and other German-American newspapers to impress upon all Germans about to leave for their fatherland the importance of providing themselves with passports, or at least their citizen papers. A sharp lookout is being had for all German Americans and they are being annoyed in all possible ways Nobody should return to Germany who has not in times past fulfilled his military duties The moment he puts his foot on German soil he will be collared by a policeman Citizen or no citizen, the one owing military duty is at once put into soldier's clothes from which he will find it extremely difficult to extricate himself I have heard of at least twenty such cases since the recent attempts by Hoedel and Nobiling. I could write you more in this style but I have no time, as I must hurry to be able to return speedily to America.

Steamboat Burned.

[From the Seattle Intelligencer.]

While the steamer Union was coming down through the north arm of the Fraser river, on her way to Burrard Inlet with some ten tons of hay and six or seven passengers a spark set the hay on fire. The captain stopped her and attempted to extinguish the flames by the use of buckets, but to no avail He then attempted to beach the Union but on returning to the pilot house he found that the tiller ropes had been burned in two and the burning boat floated down the stream at the mercy of the wind which blew the flames forward, making it terrible hot for the passengers, among whom there were one or two ladies In going aft to get the small boat which they had been towing they found the rope severed by the flames, and could see the skiff three or four hundred yards in the rear of the steamer. Captain Stoker hung the anchor over the side of the steamer, on which the passengers hastened to save themselves from suffocation One brave fellow named Scott jumped overboard and being an excellent swimmer, succeeded in soon reaching the small boat which he brought to the rescue of the passengers who would have otherwise undoubtedly either perished in the flames or found a watery grave The steamer was a total loss This occurred last Tuesday.

More Civil Service Shams.

[Washington Telegram July 27]

Great complaint is made here with the manner in which Secretary Schurz, who made so much pretension to civil service reforms makes appointments Last week it was announced that there were thirty vacancies in the interior department and that applicants, according to rule, independent of age, sex previous condition of servitude and personal political influence would be examined for places Three hundred persons applied and were examined The result of this examination was that but ten persons secured positions Much surprise was felt and exhibited among the applicants as it was expected from the representations made to them that at least thirty of their number would receive appointments Inquiry was made Did the papers of the fortunate ten reach the required standard?' The uniform answer made to the question was that many other papers received a high grade but that there were only ten places vacant! It appears that the secretary has disposed of the other twenty to his friends, who were not called upon to go through the competitive examination which is denounced by the poor disappointed candidates as a sham

A Good Word for Gen Howard

It would appear from the following, from the Germantown Telegraph that some of the eastern papers are capable of taking a just view of Gen Howard's ability as a military commander

The celerity with which General Howard formed his plans and moved upon the Indians which enabled him to strike the late severe blow is staggering to his villifiers The difficulties overcome in reaching the hostiles are but little understood here and if they were only so it would be seen how much had to be overcome in this remarkable achievement During the battle of Gettysburg the late and much respected Professor Stoever of Pennsylvania college stood at that place who saw much of the battle from his own house which he did not desert for a moment told the writer of this paragraph that General Howard was considered there as the most efficient officer on the ground and enjoyed the confidence of the army to a greater extent than any one else

THE "TIMES" ON GLADSTONE.

[London Special August 1]

The Times this morning vehemently attacks Gladstone, and says of his speech The house of commons listened with bated breath for his contribution to the great controversy and some prophetic glimpses into the future. He speaks two and a half hours and occupies seven columns of our space. He carries his hearers irresistibly down the torrent of brilliant oratory, but when all is over, and we have time to breathe, to what does it all amount? Nothing but prolonged invective against the present ministry. Scarcely anything they have done or said escapes denunciation Peace has been made, but no thanks to them They have preferred servitude to freedom; have pretended to defend public law and have really betrayed it, have made a convention, violated existing treaties, brought into question an important prerogative of the crown discredited us abroad and weakened us at home. But who are those plenipotentiaries whom he denounces with this unmitigated, unrelieved censure? They are no merely Lords Beaconsfield and Salisbury, they are the representatives of England before Europe and the world Their work, when ratified, is the work of England They have not usurped power over an unwilling people. Gladstone himself admits that they command the approval of the mass of their countrymen There are other heroes in the world besides Beaconsfield and larger questions at stake than that of the conduct of the ministry in the details of the prolonged negotiations We regret to say it, but the whole tenor of Gladstone's speech is not so much in what it contained but what it omitted. It was inconsistent with statesmanship or generous patriotism, and he must proportionately forfeit his claim to the attention of his countrymen on this great issue.

The Pay of Indian Agents

[Washington Correspondence N Y Herald]

Up to July 1, 1878 the pay of Indian agents, with two $600 exceptions was $1,500 a year, irrespective of their duties and responsibilities. To remedy the unfairness the commissioner of Indian affairs recommended a classification of the agencies as follows

First class agencies with 7 000 or more Indians	$2,500
Second class agencies with 5 000 to 7 000 Indians	2 200
Third class agencies with 3,000 to 5,000 Indians	2 000
Fourth class agencies with 2 000 to 3 000 Indians	1 800
Fifth class agencies with 1 000 to 2 000 Indians	1 500
Sixth class agencies with 500 to 1 000 Indians	1 200
Seventh class agencies with less than 800 Indians	1,000

The commissioner hoped that a higher rate of compensation would secure a superior class of officers, but congress seems to have thought that a lower rate would effect the same object, and accordingly reduced the pay of more than one-half of the agents from $100 to $500 each The pay as now established is from $1,000 to $2 200 as follows

Two special agents at large, $2 000 each two agents at $2,200, six at $2 000, five at $1 800 one at $1 700, six at $1 600 fourteen at $1 500, one at $1 400 three at $1,300 seventeen at $1,200, four at $1,100 and fifteen at $1 000

When Hard Times Will End

[Redfield's Washington Letter]

Hon G W Scofield register of the treasury lives in Warren Pa He was asked the other day when he thought the hard times would end, and promptly replied, "when board in Warren is two dollars a week" As it is now six dollars, according to this calculation the revival of prosperity is some distance ahead Mr Scofield went on to say that before the war good board could be had for two dollars per week, and, that the same establishments conducted in the same manner, now charge six dollars. Of course it is the right of every man or woman who runs a boarding house to fix the price but if the hard times continue until they voluntarily reduce it to a before the war basis we shall have these times with us some years yet And for that matter I believe we will, regardless of the price of board

Plucky but Unlucky Cow

[From the Philadelphia Record July 25]

At Ambler station on the North Pennsylvania Railroad yesterday morning piled in a mass of confusion, was a shattered locomotive its damaged tender and a very dead cow The locomotive was attached to a long string of freight cars and was moving slowly up to the station when the cow conceived the old idea of butting the whole train from the track The little boy who was driving the bovine to pasture gazed in mute despair as he saw his charge turn up the track at a run with her horns lowered for the awful assault The cow was thrown down and as the engine could not pass over her body it ran off the track The latter was cleared off in a short time and travel was resumed

And Now Democrats Get Office.

[Washington Letter to Salt Lake Tribune]

The Democratic congressional committee intended to commence operations last week but the hot weather it is presumed, prevented them doing so Work will be commenced the present week They will be more liberally supplied with funds than at any time since 1860 because there are now it is estimated, more Democrats in the civil service than at any time since Buchanan's term—a rather anomalous condition of things which causes no little unfavorable comment among the republicans A person of the latter political faith has no advantages here to-day over a Democrat in obtaining office.

The last device of the treasury department to get the new silver dollars into circulation is to pinch them in by withdrawing the one and two dollar notes. There are about $50,000 000 of these notes in circulation, and their gradual withdrawal will necessitate the use of silver dollars and keep them at par until the demand for money of small denomination is fully supplied. Thereafter silver will drop to its actual value and gradually expel better money from circulation.

The Third Term Seriously Considered.

[New York Cor Philad. Ledger]

Nothing has appeared in the journals of late that has made so much talk among people generally as Gen. Grant's conversation about men and things in the United States, which appeared in the Herald of yesterday in the shape of correspondence from Hamburg. What seems to impress the public is the strong common sense which characterizes the general's observations, together with his keen insight into the character of the various civil and military personages with which he so picturesquely and piquantly passes in review. What he says about the third term is read with peculiar interest The interpretation generally put upon that is that while the general would rather remain in private life, so far as his personal wishes are concerned, yet, if an overwhelming public opinion were to insist upon a third term, it would not be declined It is also noted that all the objections which the general urges against a third term relate to circumstances that are past, and to a state of things that does not now apply Even when he alludes to his "weariness of office" it is further remarked, he speaks in the past tense.

OREGON'S RECENT ELECTION

Senator Mitchell talks to reporters of the San Francisco papers about various matters, among them the Oregon election He tells a Call reporter, among other things that the counties in which a stand was made in his interest in every case returned members who would have voted for him, He also informs a reporter for the Chronicle that "in districts where the main issue was his rejection or his return to the senate the Republican majority had been maintained, and it was gratifying to him to know that he had been fully endorsed by his own party" These are statements well enough, perhaps, to be made to the marines of California. But it is universally known throughout Oregon, and is acknowledged by every candid man of both parties, that had Mr. Mitchell not been before the people of the state for re-election, the Republicans would have carried everything, including a majority of the legislature In what county—except Multnomah—where "a stand was made in his interest" are members elected who are known to have a preference for him? And in Multnomah the highest majority for any candidate for the legislature is far below the majority for Hayes and Wheeler, and some of the candidates got in by less than one hundred in a county which is good any time on a full party vote for six hundred Republican majority A full dozen more of Republicans would have been elected to the legislature had it not been for the dissensions produced by the "stand" which it is now admitted was made for Mr. Mitchell, and by the same cause the Republican vote on the whole state ticket was weakened correspondingly. The senator and his supporters may think the judgment of the people unwise and even unjust, but the fact remains that a great majority of them did not desire his re election, and his name, instead of aiding his party, as he intimates (and probably he is not misrepresented by the reports on this point) was the sole cause of the defeat Eastern Oregon has heretofore usually sent some Republicans to the legislature, but even Eastern Oregon, the section in whose interest Mr. Mitchell professes to have toiled so hard, this time elects not a single Republican These facts are mentioned out of no desire to give another stirring to a political contest that terminated two months ago, but solely because it is proper to meet with plain statements which every one will recognize as true the claim recently published in many places to the effect, virtually, that the senator is much stronger than his party, that his name gave it the partial success it obtained, and that full success was not assured only because an open stand was not everywhere made in his interest. Not only was it impossible throughout the state to elect persons who were known or believed to be for him, but even a suspicion, which often perhaps was not well founded, that a candidate for the legislature would under possible circumstances vote for him, in many cases caused defeat. Every person in Oregon knows that this is the key to the result of the last election. Had the senator been "fully endorsed by his own party" nothing could have prevented complete Republican success and his own re-election. If Republicans are going to succeed any more they may as well end these controversies. It is not apparent what Mr Mitchell and his special friends have to gain by keeping them open.

THE INTERNATIONAL ASSOCIATION.

A writer who professes to have been a member of the famous international association, an order supposed at one time to be strong in Europe and feared by almost every government, contributes to the Nineteenth Century an account of this noted society, and furnishes documentary evidence to prove that its numbers and importance have been ludicrously exaggerated. The brief sketch given of the order which "with fear of change perplexed monarchs" shows what great notoriety may be achieved by agitators with little real capital of men and money. We are told that the international association proper was founded in 1864, though previous to that date there had been several occasions upon which the workingmen of Europe had aimed at taking common action, both political and industrial. In 1863 the fundamental principle of a union among the laboring classes throughout the world had been set forth in an address issued as the result of a meeting held in London to express sympathy with Poland. This meeting was attended by some delegates from Paris The address was circulated throughout Europe, and became the basis of the international society established the next year In the winter of 1864-5 the society was quite active and many members were enrolled. But the writer says that the system under which these adhesions were gained was extremely loose, being merely an assent to the principles of the association. Contributions of money or personal aid in support of the society were wholly voluntary. Dissension quickly ensued between the English and continental members, the former being disposed to look to practical and possible measures, and the latter to the promulgation of abstract theories and utopian notions. Many of the propositions of the French and German members were not only disgusting but revolting to the English section, who could not endure the idea of a reconstruction of society upon the ruins of all institutions and establishments But the continental members carried their points, and English influence in the association from that time declined In 1866 the society was suppressed in France by the government of that country, and its congress was held in Switzerland the fol lowing nothing to do. There during the French communist insurrection of 1871 In England it never had above five hundred members, and in no other country was it at all formidable, though it was a terror to several governments, which expended great sums of money on spies employed to furnish reports of its proceedings and intentions The writer speaks of such men as Disraeli and Cardinal Manning being deceived as to its strength and power, and their apprehension of danger from it, while all the time it was with greatest difficulty that the order could get together money enough to pay its rent and printing expenses, and its membership was only about eighteen thousand. What a prodigious stir this society created will be well remembered and it is remarked that this revelation of the facts concerning it is timely, since it may be useful in measuring and judging of the strength of similar organizations which now make a great noise

The St Louis Republican philosophizes on the fact that tramps do not take kindly to the southern states It thinks one reason is that the negroes don't take kindly to them In that region colored people have charge of the kitchens and larders, and they are not other reason is that the south does not afford the same advantages for plunder and free living that are to be found in the north There are fewer orchards and poultry roosts to offer an easy dinner to the wayfarer who prefers pilfering to working There was an irruption of tramps into Louisiana last winter during the sugar making season They pretended to be in search of work but when furnished with employment they soon showed that they were not fascinated with it They wandered from one plantation to another and became as much disgusted with the country as it was with them The negroes showed them no favor and the planters closed their doors against them

The Indianapolis Journal asserts and gives the figures to prove the fact that there is more government money paper and coin together, in circulation in the United States now than there was in 1873 before the panic more than three times as much paper money as there ever was at any time before the war and the amount per capita to the population of the country is considerably more than twice as great as it was at the beginning of the war

One of the closest friends of Gen Grant is Mr Childs of the Philadelphia Ledger, who says that the general has given him to understand that he does not desire to be president again, because he is tired of public life and desires to settle down again into the seclusion of a private citizen Childs thinks that if the politicians try to nominate him, he will give them notice that they must seek somebody else

THE EFFECTS OF THE WAR

Atrocities and great suffering continue in many parts of Turkey Bulgarians and Turks retaliate upon each other with great cruelty. Constantinople is still crowded with Mussulman refugees Disease is among them, and the victims number hundreds every day The government is making efforts to send the refugees back, and such as are ordered off have a pitiable time of it A letter to the New York Tribune says

> The long melancholy procession winds off to the wharves or the railway station, with its sick and dying in carts, and its women wailing There they find that transportation has been provided for only half the number of refugees ordered out and they must camp down in the muddy street until morning light will allow some one to go to head quarters and represent their plight. They have been fed hitherto but as soon as they move the supply system is dislocated, and they begin to starve. When, at last, they reach their destination, they find every one turning them the cold shoulder There is no preliminary arrangement for their accommodation or settlement, and there are no foreign benevolent societies which come in and make up for the deficiencies of the government. So the result is that the last case of the refugees is worse than the first and that a fever center transferred from Constantinople is established in some other town

The writer predicts a pestilence soon He thinks it unavoidable, and says foreign intervention will be necessary before the condition of the homeless, starving and fever stricken people can be ameliorated The following sorrowful picture is drawn

> The whole territory over which troops have passed is putrid, and the shifting of the population is carrying infection to untainted districts I have just seen some of the English doctors from Erzeroum. Typhus was raging in the Russian camp, and among the citizens. The Turkish army lost 13,000 men, mainly by typhus fever, before the armistice, and the Russians have lost 20 000 in the vicinity of Erzeroum since their arrival there Among the deaths in the city is that of Miss Nicholson of Lincoln Nebraska, a missionary who has sacrificed her life to relief work among the sick and starving poor It now looks as if Erzeroum must be abandoned by all who have strength enough left for flight.

IMPRESSIONS OF OREGON

The Stockton (Cal) Independent of August 1st has the following We cannot commend the writer as an accurate observer After wide observation, however, he would certainly change his opinions greatly, unless indeed he be one of those who think California can be best praised by disparagement of Oregon We are not sure that we see a single statement in the annexed that better observation would not correct, unless it be the reference to timber in Oregon

> George S Ladd, who is spending some weeks in Oregon, writes to his son some of his impressions of the country over which he has traveled He says he cannot see what advantage Oregon has over California, except in the matter of lumber The price of land is in advance of California land, and in the Willamette valley, within fifty miles of Portland, they want $75 to $100 an acre, and it costs $40 to $80 an acre to clear it up Crops are not large in the state, in fact winter wheat is very scarce He says wheat does not stool in Oregon as it does in California, one or two extra stalks from the germ is all it will stand In the Willamette valley they reap all the grain and bind it, but east of the mountains they use the headers The laboring classes are mostly French, Low Dutch, Scandinavians, and that class who have from boyhood lived among timber and would not feel at home in any other place There are few Irish in the state He says that in Portland some few citizens monopolize most of the business, for instance, draying is all controlled by one man, hacks by another express wagons by another, livery business by another, and so on through all lines of business. Trade in Portland is dull, but a great many new buildings are in process of construction in anticipation of better times

New System of Wagon Brakes.

TRULLINGER PATENT BRAKE.

NO SHOES TO WEAR OUT TIRES!

No Brake Bar used. Will hold a Wagon anywhere from Backing or going Forward.

THIS NEW BRAKE NOW BEING INTRODUCED by the inventor J C Trullinger is a combination of friction gear applied to the hub of a wagon It is simple and light yet has more strength and durability than any other wagon brake now in use It is so attached to the wagon that it is out of the way of the gearing yet always reliable and at hand when required Any teamster or mechanic can see at once its utility and effective force to hold a load on a down grade or to prevent horse backing when required The Brake is made entirely of iron no wooden part being necessary as no brake bar is used hence it does not carry mud and is not affected by wet and muddy or icy roads.

We invite critical examination as we believe its merits can be demonstrated to any party who uses or understands a wagon brake

WEDNESDAY MORNING AUGUST 7 1878

CITY

AN EVENING ON THE GREAT REPUBLIC Agreeable to prior arrangements this handsome and commodious steamship was turned into a floating reception and ball room evening before last and an invited party of gentlemen with their lady escorts took possession of it with the determination of passing a pleasant evening The preparations were of an elaborate kind due to the kindness and courtesy of Captain Carroll and included many attractive features which together with a judicious use of aquatic accessories left nothing lacking A canvas awning spread overhead and the sides curtained off with flags of various colors and nationalities A continuous array of ships' lights at equidistances extending the length of the boat and interspersed with a beautiful display of colored lanterns were in themselves worthy of a special visit and added very considerably to the evening's enjoyment A very efficient string and brass band under Prof Roos' leadership was stationed on an elevated platform and at 9 o clock the signal was given for dancing to commence Never have we seen a prettier or more romantic sight than was then presented Add to its animation the subdued and colored reflection from the illuminations around and nothing is left for the imagination It was indeed a veritable transformation scene The gaiety continued until 12 o clock when the guests adjourned to the dining room and here was presented another transformation scene. The elegant spread was substantially appreciated after which dancing was again indulged in and continued merrily till 2 o'clock. The event will be long and pleasantly remembered by all who were fortunate enough to be present, not forgetting their gratefulness to Capt Carroll, N. B Ingalls agent and other officers of the ship for special favors and services rendered, and to whom the management are certainly under many obligations

IMPROVEMENTS AT AURORA.—The Salem Statesman says "The German town of Aurora on the railroad twenty miles below, is growing into importance Among the improvements this summer is a new railway depot which is about completed and ready for occupation It is situated directly across the track from the hotel, and it will be one of the most commodious depots on the line New machinery is being placed in the saw mill Mr Kilpatrick of Portland is doing the work The machinery is from the Willamette Iron Works of Portland. A new house 40 by 80 has been erected on the Dr Keil place for an apple packing and cider pressing institution The new flouring mill will soon commence running and it is the intention to make a superior brand of flour for the Portland and Salem markets. Other improvements are in contemplation that will keep the members of this industrial colony busy as bees all winter "

PLANS FOR THE WILLAMETTE BRIDGE.—The plan for the Portland bridge, designed and drawn by A S Miller & Son, and J L. Ramsey, of Eugene City, are now finished and will soon be submitted These plans provide for a bridge of the Howe truss pattern, consisting of five main spans of 200 feet each, one draw span of 250 feet, and three short spans of 80 feet each, the total length to be about 1,800 feet, and to have a width of 20 feet in the clear of passage way, besides a sidewalk of 4 feet on each side. WEDNESDAY MORNING AUGUST 7, 1878

CITY.

AN EVENING ON THE GREAT REPUBLIC.—Agreeable to prior arrangements this hand some and commodious steamship was turned into a floating reception and ball room evening before last, and an invited party of gentlemen with their lady escorts took possession of it with the determination of passing a pleasant evening. The preparations were of an elaborate kind, due to the kindness and courtesy of Captain Carroll and included many attractive features which together with a judicious use of aquatic accessories left nothing lacking. A canvas awning spread overhead and the sides curtained off with flags of various colors and nationalities. A continuous array of ships' lights at equidistances extending the length of the boat and interspaced with a beautiful display of colored lanterns were in themselves worthy of a special visit and added very considerably to the evening's enjoyment. A very efficient string and brass band under Prof Roos leadership was stationed on an elevated platform and at 9 o clock the signal was given for dancing to commence. Never have we seen a prettier or more romantic sight than was then presented. Add to its animation the subdued and colored reflection from the illuminations around and nothing is left for the imagination. It was indeed a veritable transformation scene. The gaiety continued until 12 o'clock when the guests adjourned to the dining room and here was presented another transformation scene. The elegant spread was substantially appreciated after which dancing was again indulged in and continued merrily till 2 o'clock. The event will be long and pleasantly remembered by all who were fortunate enough to be present, not forgetting their gratefulness to Capt Carroll, N B Ingalls, agent, and other officers of the ship for special favors and services rendered and to whom the management are certainly under many obligations.

IMPROVEMENTS AT AURORA.—The Salem Statesman says: The German town of Aurora on the railroad, twenty miles below, is growing into importance. Among the improvements this summer is a new railway depot which is about completed and ready for occupation. It is situated directly across the track from the hotel, and it will be one of the most commodious depots on the line. New machinery is being placed in the saw mill. Mr. Kilpatrick of Portland is doing the work. The machinery is from the Willamette Iron Works of Portland. A new house 40 by 80 has been erected on the Dr Keil place for an apple packing and cider pressing institution. The new flouring mill will soon commence running, and it is the intention to make a superior brand of flour for the Portland and Salem markets. Other improvements are in contemplation that will keep the members of this industrial colony busy as bees all winter."

PLANS FOR THE WILLAMETTE BRIDGE.—The plan for the Portland bridge, designed and drawn by A. S Miller & Son, and J L Ramsey, of Eugene City, are now finished and will soon be submitted. These plans provide for a bridge of the Howe truss pattern, consisting of five main spans of 200 feet each one draw span of 250 feet, and three short spans of 80 feet each, the total length to be about 1,800 feet, and to have a width of 20 feet in the clear of passage way, besides a sidewalk of 4 feet on each side. The draw span will be operated by an engine of eight horse power, and will require about two minutes to swing. The plans are drawn on a scale of ¼ inch to the foot and cover about ten yards of paper. Mr Henry Miller is now in the city with them and will submit them at once to the directors for inspection and acceptance.

The building is to be 25 by 35 feet and two stories high. The ground floor is to be used in front as an engine house and the rear as a jail. The second story will be used as a council chamber.

NUMBER OF ARRESTS.—Up to 12 o clock last evening 52 arrests have been made thus far the present month. This is a good beginning for August.

THE STEINWAY PIANOS AGAIN.

A RECOMMENDATION AND TESTIMONIAL FROM LEADING ARTISTS IN THE WORLD

The Piano Fortes manufactured by Messrs Steinway & Sons have established for themselves so world wide a reputation that it is hardly possible for us to add anything to their great fame.

Having thoroughly tested and tried these instruments personally for years both in public and private it becomes our pleasant duty to express our candid opinion regarding their unquestioned superiority over any other Piano known to us.

Among the chief points of their uniform excellence are Greatest possible depth richness and volume of tone combined with a rare brilliancy clearness and perfect evenness throughout the entire scale and above all a surprising duration of sound the pure and sympathetic quality of which never changes under the most delicate or powerful touch.

This peculiarity is found exclusively in the "Steinway Piano" and together with the matchless precision elasticity and promptness of action always characterizing the e instruments as well as their unequaled durability under the severest trials is truly surprising. We therefore consider the Steinway Pianos in all respects the best instrument made in this country or in Europe use them solely and exclusively ourselves in public or private and recommend them invariably to our friends and public.

We have at different times expressed our opinions regarding the pianos of various makers but freely and unhesitatingly pronounce MESSRS STEINWAY & SONS Pianos superior to them all.

The Exchange Hotel of Albany is now the leading house of that place and is getting away with the other hotels it now being under the management of one Mr M S Burrows lately from Canada who is running it on the European style and true his tables are extra and his rooms and beds the same—he having spent considerable in renovating refurnishing it.

Many sufferers from liver and kidney complaints would find great relief and many might be entirely cured if they would persevere in the use of Frese's Hamburg Tea, a simple vegetable remedy which acts like magic on these organs cleansing away all impurities and restoring to vigorous health those parts so long under bondage to disease.

FROM HILLSBORO.

Under date of A[illegible] [illegible] correspondent sends the following personal and miscellaneous notes:

Bert Tozer holds a case on the Independent.

Field hands get from $1 50 to $2 per day and board.

Charley Cornelius is mixing pills here. He's "way" up in the business.

Crops are fair—in fact I may even say good and farmers are pretty busy.

Mr I Williams is the accommodating railroad and telegraph agent in our city.

Geo Wethers is one of our main stand bys for a calico sampler in selling dry goods.

Sheriff Tozier is the local agent for the New Zealand Ins Co and has good patronage.

It is probable a minstrel club will be organized here this winter. The local talent is immense.

There is a fine large warehouse here for storing grain. It will prove very convenient and useful.

There is an opening here for industrious mechanics, harness makers blacksmiths carpenters etc.

Mr Pittenger has a general store here in connection with the postoffice and has a good run of custom.

Dr Busby is here lecturing. It is reported there is to be a debate between some reverend gentleman and the jolly M D.

Several parties are making arrangements to take trips to the mountains and sea coast in search of berries fun and health.

Jolly genial G W C T etc Dunbar was here Saturday night attending our lodge. Quite a number joined and the lodge is very prosperous.

Some of the vocalists serenaded our office the other evening and the music was fine. The bass solos were encored amidst a shower of bouquets.

Messrs A Finney, Riley Cave and T J Majors are turning out some fine buggies and carriages, and farmers and persons in need of vehicles can do well by patronizing these enterprising gentlemen.

You can get a nice rig from the stable here at a reasonable figure and it is very pleasant to take a ride around the country hereabouts, and note the marks of advancement and improvement on every hand, and the waving fields of grain too, I guess.

There was a campmeeting held about four miles from here during part of last week by the Spiritual brethren. The exercises were solemn and impressive, and there was an absence of that gaiety and reckless conduct that sometimes characterizes campmeetings in other localities.

Dr Bailey has a good deal of patronage when medical assistance is needed, but happily our little burg is comparatively free from any general maladies and is in a healthy locality. What place can show a more sturdy lot of farmers than our town, comparatively speaking?

Perhaps a few words about this part of our state may not be amiss just at this time. Times are quite lively here now; in fact there is a noticeable advancement here every year in the way of improvements of property business undertakings and commercial status. Several buildings have been put up within a few months.

THE DEATH OF A H ROBIE

[From the Idahoan July 23.]

This community was startled on Friday morning last at the announcement of the death of Mr A H Robie which occurred at his home on Dry creek nine miles from town after an illness of but a few days. But few knew that he had returned, and a still less number that he was sick. He came back completely worn out from a long chase after the hostile Indians. It may be truthfully said that he had never had a moment's rest from the time the Indians struck his stock ranch on Stein mountain until he breathed his last. He there lost $10 000 worth of horses had one or two men killed and escaped with his own life only after an exciting run and close pursuit of 100 miles. He then joined the forces against the Indians and finally when utterly prostrated from exposure and anxiety came home to die. Mr Robie had been a resident of this country since 1860, and of Ada county since 1864. He was one of the leading spirits of Southern Idaho full of energy and enterprise and had accumulated by fair dealing and good management quite a competence. He was still a young man being but 46 years of age and although his demise was not the result of wounds received in the conflict, yet he was one of the many victims of the Indian outbreak but for which he might have lived many more years of usefulness. His death was truly a public calamity. He was a native of New York and came to Oregon in 1853 thence in 1860 to Lewiston, Idaho. He leaves a wife and five children. The procession which followed his remains to the grave was the largest seen for years.

No remedy ever introduced in the market of Oregon has given more universal satisfaction than the Oregon Blood Purifier. Unsolicited certificates praising its wonderful qualities from people competent to judge are sufficient recommendations to satisfy the most skeptical. It has become a family favorite highly valued in every household. Being perfectly harmless and pleasant in taste it is easily taken by any child and by the most delicate female as well as the most robust man. There is no possible danger of any serious result from a continued use of this famous medicine. Oregon's choicest medicinal herbs carefully selected and scientifically prepared are the principal ingredients of this celebrated purifier of the blood, regulator of the stomach bowels and kidneys and eradicator of any complaint having its origin from a disordered state of these functions such as Biliousness in its worst form Boils Costiveness Dyspepsia Indigestion Heartburn Sour Stomach Sick Headache &c. As a guard against fever and ague it is unexcelled. People living in malarious and miasmatic localities or when the ague is already lodged in the system should use in addition to the Oregon Blood Purifier the Willamette Fever and Ague Mixture which is put up especially for the Willamette Valley, and the most certain remedy for Fever and Ague Mountain Fever Chills Intermittent and Bilious Fever Dumb Ague &c &c. Prepared at the Pharmaceutical laboratory of WM PFUNDER & CO corner First and Ash streets.

Dr Mintie's Vegetable Nephreticum,

Will cure all diseases of the Kidneys Bladder and Urinary Organs. Hundreds have been cured after all other remedies have failed. His English Dandelion Pills have no equal in all cases of Diseased Liver Dyspepsia or any Billious derangement. Many of your leading citizens of this city will vouch as to their merits. To be had of all druggists.

GLASS BALL SHOOTING

Much interest was taken in the glass ball shooting match which took place at the White House last Saturday afternoon and a number of our best shots were on hand to take part in the exercises. Considerable merriment was caused now and then by the wide marksmanship of some who took part but on the whole the scores of each were good with little exception. The first round was a sweepstakes match of ten balls each for $2 50 entry. The entries were Messrs Bybee Jeffreys and Bennett. Following is the score:

Bybee	1	0	0	1	1	1	1	0	1	0 6
Jeffreys	0	0	1	0	1	0	1	0	1	0–4
Bennett	1	0	0	0	1	1	1	1	0	[illegible]

The second round was a sweepstakes match of ten balls each $2 50 entry, $10 to the best and $5 to the second. The entries were Auberry, Monastes, Acker, Bennett Bybee Jeffreys and Morrill. The score stood as follows:

Auberry	1	1	1	1	0	1	1	1	0	1 8
Monastes	1	1	1	1	1	0	0	1	0	1
Acker	1	1	0	1	1	0	0	1	1	0 6
Bennett	1	0	1	1	1	0	0	[illegible]	1	0–5
Bybee	1	1	0	0	1	1	1	1	0	0 6
Jeffreys	0	0	0	0	1	1	0	1	0	0–3
Morrill	1	1	1	0	0	0	1	0	0	0–4

The third match was a sweepstakes with the same conditions as the above and the same entries. This time the score stood thus:

Bybee	1	1	0	0	1	1	1	1	1	1–8
Monastes	1	0	0	0	1	1	1	1	1	1–7
Acker	1	1	0	1	0	1	1	0	0	1–6
Bennett	1	0	0	0	1	1	1	1	0	1–6
Morrill	1	0	0	1	0	0	0	1	0	0–3

The fourth match under the same conditions as the preceding resulted in the subjoined score:

Auberry	1	1	1	0	1	0	1	1	1	1–8
Bybee	1	1	0	1	0	1	0	1	1	1–7
Monastes	1	0	0	0	1	1	1	1	0	1–6
Acker	1	1	0	1	0	0	1	0	1	0–5
Bennett	1	0	1	0	1	0	1	0	1	1–6
Jeffreys	0	0	0	1	1	0	0	1	1	0–4
Morrill	0	0	0	1	1	0	1	1	1	0–5

The following is the result of the fifth match:

Bybee	1	1	1	1	1	1	1	1	0	0–8
Auberry	1	1	1	0	0	1	1	0	1	1–7
Monastes	1	0	1	1	1	0	1	1	1	0–[illegible]
Acker	1	1	1	1	0	0	1	0	1	1–7

Considerable money changed hands during the matches, bets being freely offered and accepted. Our sporting men are displaying considerable interest in this exciting pastime, and in all probability another tournament will take place on the same grounds next Saturday. The advisability of using pigeons instead of glass balls is just now being discussed.

QUININE AND ARSENIC form the basis of many of the Ague remedies in the market and are the last resort of physicians and people who know no better medicine to employ for this distressing complaint. The effects of either of these drugs are destructive to the system, producing headache intestinal disorders, vertigo, dizziness ringing of the ears and depression of the constitutional health. AYER'S AGUE CURE is a vegetable discovery containing neither quinine arsenic nor any deleterious ingredient, and is an infallible and rapid cure for every form of Fever and Ague. Its effects are permanent and certain and no injury can result from its use. Besides being a positive cure for Fever and Ague in all its forms it is also a superior remedy for Liver Complaints. It is an excellent tonic and preventive, as well as cure, of all complaints peculiar to malarious, marshy and miasmatic districts. It acts directly on the Liver and biliary apparatus thus stimulating the system to a vigorous, healthy condition. For sale by all dealers.

WEDNESDAY MORNING AUGUST 7 1878

THE MODERN FARMER

The pipe of the quail in the stubble field
The scent of the new mown hay
And all day long the shout and the song
Of the reapers so far way

The restless racket amid the grain
The noise of the reaping ma e
And over again the howl of pain
Comes over the meadows green

Oh sweet is the field where the meadow lark flits
And sings as it soars and dives
Where the granger ts and yells as he gits
His fingers among the knives

No longer we hear on the hillside sere
The scythestone's clinkety clink
But the reaping machine cuts his leg off, I ween
Before ever the man can think

With foreboding and tears his good wife hears
The man of the house say good by
To return in sooth with a horse rake tooth
Sticking four inches out of his eye

When the thrashers come in with halloo and din
How burdened with sorrow the hour
When they pause to scan what is left of the man
Chawed up in an eight horse power

Oh lithe and listen From over the hills
What voice for the doctor begs?
'Tis the stoker who fell, and awful to tell
The steam harrow ran over his legs

Thus all day long with mirth and song
They laugh at the dread alarms,
Though the waving field shall its harvest yield
Of fingers and legs and arms.

Then pity the sorrows of a poor old granger
Whose mangled limbs have borne him to the fence
Who braved with reckless courage untold danger
And run his farm with modern implements

THE PLANS FOR THE COMPLETION OF THE WASHINGTON MONUMENT

[From the Washington Star]

The preparation of a plan for the strengthening of the foundation of the Washington monument is tedious work, and necessarily requires considerable time Col Casey and his assistant, Capt Davis, have proceeded so far that, though they have not completed their work, a general idea of the plan which they will submit to the joint commission for their approval can be given Competent authorities have given the opinion that the base is not sufficiently strong for the monument to be completed to its proposed height—five hundred feet. The recent examinations made by Col. Casey corroborate this opinion. It is known that the base is perfectly able to sustain the monument in its present condition The pressure now upon the clay below is five tons to the square foot If without in any way fixing the base the pile should be run up to five hundred feet, the pressure per square foot would be about eight tons and a half. Thus it is unable to stand. The plan is to so strengthen it that when five hundred feet is reached the pressure shall remain as it now is—five tons to the foot In order to do this the base will be extended laterally on either side a distance to be determined by calculations not yet completed. It is also proposed to extend the base downward This does not, however, mean the undermining of the whole base It is intended to make such extension under the four sides near the edges and not under the whole base. The depth of this extension has not yet been calculated with exactness. Concrete is to be used in carrying out this part of the plan Although the officers are making such haste as can be made in work which requires so much exactness, it may be the last of August before work is commenced. The foundation is of Potomac gneiss rock, eighty-one feet square, buried eight feet below the surface. The height of the present superstructure, which is fifty-five feet square, is one hundred and seventy four feet. The amount so far expended is $231,000, and the amount appropriated for its completion is $250,000. The monument will be finished in heavy blocks of crystal marble from Maryland, laid in courses of about two feet, and backed to the required thickness with gneiss to make the inner surface vertical, the outer face receding at a very slight angle as it rises, so as to give the form of an obelisk. The interior of the monument will be provided with an iron stairway to enable persons so desiring to make the ascent Col Casey estimates that the monument can be carried to the proposed height within two years.

Overland Freight Charges.

[New York Special, August 1]

The increase of freight rates by the Union and Central Pacific is very generally condemned by both merchants and the public It is considered a very foolish and short sighted move The rate of $240 per ton across the continent is about the same as in old staging days. Independent of the unpopularity of the movement its effect will be to divert all trade by sea. Pacific Mail and sailing ship stock will of course advance. None but the lightest freight will be sent overland, and it will go by express Freights via Cape Horn show no improvement over reports of the past fortnight, and if anything the market is more quiet The circular of the Pacific roads has been the topic of conversation among shippers. Although for the time being they may be compelled to ship overland, as it is too late to send via Cape Horn to catch the fall trade, they promise to ship by clipper earlier next season, and thus be in time for the trade. What action the Pacific Mail will take has not been determined, as they desire to study the situation before making rates but they propose to carry dry goods at a rate that will insure them the bulk of the business.

DR. PAUL M. BRENAN

His Wonderful Success

IN THE TREATMENT OF ALL

Chronic and Acute Diseases.

He has astonished the People of this Coast by his skillful Operations.

HE HAS TAUGHT IN HIS public and private lectures the true principles of health and life to both male and female. He has also warned them against habits that would be likely to produce disease in plain and comprehensive language. But where he has found them crushed and broken down by disease, mentally and physically he has restored them to health and happiness for it is well understood that without health there can be no happiness.

DR. BRENAN has made a specialty in the treatment of the following diseases Catarrh Bronchitis, and all diseases of the throat and chest, by an entirely new system only known to himself Diseases of the Kidneys and Urinary Organs, including Spermatorrhea, Seminal Weakness or premature loss of Manhood. In the treatment of these diseases he has made a world wide reputation by his astonishing success not only on this Coast but throughout the whole United States. Diseases of the stomach bowels, liver and kidneys as well as all diseases of the blood and skin he has become master of and never fails to give relief at once and permanently cures the case if he is applied to in time.

THE DOCTOR HAS GIVEN SPECIAL LECTURES to ladies only for years and is perfectly familiar with all female complaints, and understands their delicate and refined organization as well as the proper remedies which should be used to allay their suffering and restore them to perfect health

THE DOCTOR HAS THIS ADVANTAGE over most physicians—he can tell the patients' disease the moment he comes in contact with them without any aid from the individual This accounts in part for his great professional success

All surgical operations can be performed by his skillful hand, and the patient need not fear the result.

DR. BRENAN will send to those living at a distance and who can not well visit his office a list of Printed Questions and by the answers when filled out he can tell the disease as well as the proper treatment almost as well as seeing the patient personally and will forward the proper medicines or instruments to any part of the country with full instructions and advice. Each letter requiring advice or list of questions, must contain two postage stamps

Everything strictly confidential and honorable

THE DOCTOR has studied in the best Medical Schools in Europe and three years in the Jefferson Medical College at Philadelphia, as more than one of the Medical men of the Medical Faculty in this State can testify

CAUTION.

Persons coming to Portland requiring medical treatment of the proper kind who desire to consult with me will please beware of persons who may try to coax them away to other so-called Doctors through pretended friendship for the patients Look out for them they are knaves prompted by selfish motives and what they can make Be sure and ask for DR. PAUL M. BRENAN the Medical Lecturer and read his sign on his door

GENERAL NEWS.

[BY TELEGRAPH TO THE OREGONIAN]

Chicago Distillers want to Know.

CHICAGO Aug 6—The distillers of Chicago held a meeting to day and discussed the fact that Peoria and Cincinnati distillers are able to under sell them in the high wine market, although the natural advantages of production in Chicago are greater than in those cities They have prepared and ordered to be sent to Commissioner Raum a letter setting forth their grievance and urging investigation of this condition of affairs They say if the tax was abrogated there would not be a single distillery running in Ohio, and threaten to bring the matter to the attention of congress unless a speedy remedy is found

Trying to Straddle the Financial Question

LOGANSPORT Ind Aug 6—Senator McDonald opened the campaign here to night, speaking to a large audience on the financial question He says his views are the same as four years ago. In the course of his speech he said "I have ever looked on such moneyed institutions as national banks existing under authority of the federal government, as dangerous engines of political power, and do not feel willing to have the system perpetuated for any supposed advantage that may spring from it I am anxious to see them in a sure and certain process of liquidation. I cannot believe congress possesses power to coin money out of paper, yet I believe in the fullest manner in the right of government to use her credit in the form of treasury notes to any extent her creditors will receive, and while the government is carrying so large a debt I see no reason why she should not as far as possible relieve the people of the burden of debt as to interest by the free use of treasury notes thus lighten the burden of the government and at the same time furnish a safe circulating medium for the people.

A Platform of Claptraps.

BATON ROUGE, Aug 7—The Democratic state platform recommends a levee system, calls for aid to the Pacific railroad and Brazilian steamship line, endorses the Nicholls government approves the fraud investigation by the federal house, asserts that the interest of the industrial wealth producing classes is of paramount interest to the people; that those whose labor and enterprise produce wealth should be secured in its enjoyment expresses sympathy for the laboring classes who have been thrown out of employment by the ruinous financial policy and unjust legislation of the Republican party and pledges the Democratic party to reform these wrongs upon its ascendency to power, demands that the national banking system should be abolished and national bank notes retired and in lieu thereof the government issue an equal amount of greenbacks. It also demands the immediate and unconditional repeal of the law imposing a tax on circulation of state banks demands the immediate and unconditional repeal of the resumption act is opposed to the ruinous policy of the Republican party whereby the volume of currency has been contracted far below the business requirements of the country, and declares that failures, depression of business, scarcity of labor and pauper wages have been entailed. All bonds or obligations of the national government should be paid in legal tender greenback notes of the United States, except where otherwise provided in original law It demands the repeal of all laws passed subsequent to the original law creating the public debt by which obligations of contract have been made more onerous.

Other resolutions hold the Republican party responsible for the depressed condition of business, and vigorously denounce the conspiracy which, through corruption and fraud gave the electoral votes of South Carolina Louisiana and Florida to Hayes and Wheeler against the clearly expressed will of the voters of those states, and declare the firm conviction that the refusal of the Republican members of the electoral commission to investigate charges of fraud whereby certificates of election were given the Hayes electors in said states was a violation of public duty and betrayal of trust reposed in them.
